Accessories

The BOA Cable Snake is a flexible vertical cable management umbilical, designed for use with fixed and height-adjustable workpoints. Its unique design features a central segregation spine made of highly flexible silicone. Sections can be easily added or removed, allowing the length to be quickly adjusted to suit bespoke heights and configurations.

This adaptability ensures cables remain neatly guided from the desktop to the floor without tension, tangling, or visual clutter. Clean, functional, and easy to install, BOA helps maintain an organised workspace while supporting the full movement range of sit-stand desks.
